Begin With LinkedIn Learning

Summary

Information and instructions for using LinkedIn Learning (formerly Lynda.com), which provides access to online video courses including many of the Microsoft family of software, web design, photography, business skills, and more

Accessing LinkedIn Learning

Log in to LinkedIn Learning Through A-B Tech

It is important to use the link above in order to log in through the A-B Tech Organizational Account.

Use your A-B Tech email address and password.

Connecting your LinkedIn Profile with LinkedIn Learning

Next you may see a second dialog box for logging in with LinkedIn (the word "Learning" does not appear on this dialog box). You are not required to link a personal LinkedIn profile to your LinkedIn Learning account. If you choose to tie the two accounts together, you will be logging in using your LinkedIn email address and password. These may not be the same as your college email and password.

Signing into LinkedIn Learning with your LinkedIn account allows you to seamlessly share Learning goals and successes across platforms. For more information about how to display courses or learning paths you have completed to your LinkedIn Profile, visit the following link: Adding Learning Certificates of Completion and Skills to Your LinkedIn Profile.
