View When a Class Will Be Offered

Summary

How to view when a specific class will be offered

Overview

We offer both Curriculum and Continuing Education classes. Curriculum classes are for college credit and in the format of more traditional college classes. Continuing Education classes are not for college credit, are generally shorter in length, and sometimes cost less.

Curriculum (For-Credit) Classes

The best place to view the current curriculum class schedule is in Self-Service. It includes information about specific class times, open seats, class descriptions, textbook information, etc.

Tutorial—Search for Class Availability

Continuing Education (Non-Credit) Classes

The best place to view the upcoming Continuing Education class schedule is through the online registration tool. This gives class times, open seats, class descriptions, textbook information, etc. A general schedule can also be viewed at abtech.edu/ce-schedule.

The Continuing Education Online Registration Process tutorial contains instructions to search and register for upcoming classes.

Future Semester Curriculum Classes

Self-Service usually only displays curriculum classes for the current academic year. The upcoming summer, fall, and spring class schedules are typically available in late March.

If you're wondering when a specific class will be offered during a future term, contact us at (828) 398-7900 or info@abtech.edu, and we'll be able to tell you if that class has been offered during that term in the past.
