

Distance Advising and Learning

Summary

Information about distance advising and the distance learning options

Distance Advising for Curriculum Students

All new and returning distance learning students are invited to consult with a Student Advisor. You may use the Student Advising Appointment Calendar to schedule a virtual (online or phone) appointment. You may also email Student Advising at advising@abtech.edu.

Generally speaking, distance students who have been assigned a Program/Faculty Advisor should contact their Program/Faculty Advisor by phone or email for advising assistance.

Distance Learning for Continuing Education Students

A-B Tech partners with the national firm Ed2Go to offer skill-enriching classes online for your convenience. These high quality, instructor-led courses begin monthly and can be accessed from any computer.

You can see what course options are available at ed2go.com/abtech. If you have questions about online Community Enrichment courses, please call \(828\) 398-7369398-7369) or email communityenrichment@abtech.edu. With questions about Workforce/Occupational Training online courses, please call (828) 398-7903 or email OnlineCE@abtech.edu.

Distance Learning and Residency

A-B Tech is a member of the NC-SARA, which allows students from participating states to enroll in online distance education classes. Go to the abtech.edu/distance page of our website and select States in Which A-B Tech is Authorized to Serve to see a list of states where students can enroll in online classes at A-B Tech. If you have any questions about residency, please contact our Admissions Office directly at admissions@abtech.edu.
